

Consumer Class Actions Brewing in Florida as Federal Courts Deny a Series of Motions to Dismiss

Proskauer on Advertising Law Blog on January 6, 2015

While California historically has a reputation as the most plaintiff-friendly forum for alleged consumer class action deceptive advertising cases, Florida is emerging as stiff competition for the title after a recent trio of orders denying motions to dismiss consumer fraud actions emerged out of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida... Continue Reading

Related Professionals

---

- Jennifer Yang
Partner