

SEC Commissioner Highlights Need for Cyber-Risk Management in Speech at New York Stock Exchange

Privacy Law Blog on August 10, 2014

As we've previously reported, cyber risks are an increasingly common risk facing businesses of all kinds. In a recent speech given at the New York Stock Exchange, SEC Commissioner Luis A. Aguilar emphasized that cybersecurity has grown to be a "top concern" of businesses and regulators alike and admonished companies, and more specifically their directors, to... Continue Reading
