

The Americans with Disabilities Act at 25 Years: A Look Back and What's Ahead

Law and the Workplace Blog on July 29, 2015

This Sunday marked the 25th anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act ("ADA"), which was signed into law by President George H.W. Bush on July 26, 1990. The enactment of the ADA represented a bipartisan commitment to fight discrimination against individuals with disabilities in many aspects of everyday life, including in the workplace and in places of public accommodation...
