

Washington Jury Awards “Perceived” Whistleblower $1 Million

Whistleblower Defense Blog on April 14, 2015

In a jury verdict issued on March 26, 2015, a supervisor for the nation’s largest ferry system was awarded $1 million because the jury concluded that his employer demoted him as an act of retaliation in violation of the Washington State Employee Whistleblower Protection Act because he was believed—albeit inaccurately—to be a whistleblower. Chaussee v. State of Washington, Wash. Super. Ct., No. 11-2-01884-6, 3/26/15...
