

NYC Mayor Signs Law Banning Credit Checks

Law and the Workplace Blog on May 7, 2015

Yesterday, NYC Mayor Bill DeBlasio signed a bill (Int. 0261-2014) that amends the City's Human Rights Law to prohibit most employers from inquiring into or considering a prospective or current employee's credit history when making employment decisions. The law will take effect on September 3, 2015... Continue Reading