

SEC Proposal Would Limit Investment In Derivatives By Investment Companies

Corporate Defense and Disputes Blog on December 14, 2015

Recognizing the substantial risks inherent in many derivatives transactions, and the substantial leverage that is often imbedded in derivatives, the SEC last week announced its proposed new rules that would impose limits on the exposure to derivatives for investment companies, which include mutual funds, exchange-traded funds and closed-end funds, and create other regulatory requirements... Continue Reading