Proskauer

New York's Highest Court Refuses to Expand the Common Interest Doctrine to Merging Parties

Minding Your Business Blog on June 15, 2016

Last Thursday, the New York Court of Appeals issued a stark reminder to transactional lawyers: no matter how much "common interest" two parties may have with respect to a transaction, the common interest doctrine may not protect their communications...

Continue Reading

Related Professionals

- Jordan B. Leader
  Senior Counsel