

Update on Lawsuits Challenging the U.S. Department of Labor's Fiduciary Rule

ERISA Practice Center Blog on August 17, 2016

As we previously reported, there are five pending lawsuits challenging the U.S. Department of Labor's new fiduciary rule. Our Client Alert on the new rule outlines the significance of the rule and the implications of the expanded definition of "fiduciary" for investment advisors and other related service providers...
