

Policy Fights in the Courts: United States v. Texas

Minding Your Business Blog on May 2, 2016

On April 18, 2016, the Supreme Court heard oral argument in a major immigration suit, United States v. Texas. This case is a highly-politicized lawsuit in which dozens of states have sued the federal government over what is effectively a policy dispute. In that respect, the case is newsworthy not only for the substantive immigration issues raised, but also because it implicates an important issue of standing... Continue Reading