

Update on the USDOL Conflict of Interest Rule and Related Exemptions

Employee Benefits & Executive Compensation Blog on February 14, 2017

There were two key developments last week concerning the ongoing challenges to the U.S. Department of Labor (USDOL) conflict of interest rule and related exemptions: a Presidential Memorandum calling for a review of the rule, and a ruling by a federal court in Texas rejecting the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's challenges to the rule...
