

Bloomberg Law Podcast: Broadway Casting Decision Shines Spotlight on Discrimination Claims

California Employment Law Update on April 12, 2024

Labor Co-Chair Tony Oncidi joins Bloomberg Law podcast host June Grasso to discuss how the First Amendment can shield casting decisions from discrimination challenges. In this episode, Grasso and Oncidi cover a Broadway musical's casting decision that replaced one actor with another of a different race and the implications the decision will have on discrimination claims throughout the entertainment industry.

We invite you to listen to Tony's interview with Bloomberg Law here (the interview starts at the 25:45 minute mark).
