Boris Dolgonos Joins Proskauer as A Capital Markets Partner in New York

September 30, 2025

NEW YORK, September 29, 2025 – Proskauer has added Boris Dolgonos as a partner in its Capital Markets practice in New York. Boris brings decades of experience advising issuers and underwriters on equity and debt financing transactions across global markets.

His work spans IPOs, high-yield and investment-grade offerings, leveraged buyouts, cross-border securities transactions, and private placements. Boris advises U.S. and international companies, investment banks, financial institutions, and sovereign entities across a variety of industries on corporate governance, securities laws, stock exchange regulations, and ongoing reporting obligations.

“Proskauer’s strength lies in anticipating client needs and building practices that deliver across markets. Boris’ global perspective and broad transactional experience enable us to deliver practical, market-informed advice to our clients. I am excited to welcome him to the Firm,” said Firm Chairman, Tim Mungovan.

“Boris has built trusted relationships across the market by guiding clients through complex transactions and governance matters. His ability to bridge financing strategy with long-term business objectives will be an asset and he will play a key role in expanding the reach of our Capital Markets practice,” said Jonathan (JD) DeSantis, partner and head of the Capital Markets practice.

“I’m delighted to join Proskauer and its dynamic finance platform. The Firm’s client-centered and collaborative culture makes it an ideal place to further build my practice, and I look forward to contributing to the Firm’s continued success,” said Boris.
