Proskauer Advises Meanings Capital Partners on Its Investment in Amperus

November 25, 2026

PARIS, 25 November 2026 – Proskauer advised Meanings Capital Partners, a leading responsible investment firm, on its €40 million investment, through its Meanings Infrastructure Fund, in Amperus, a French electric vehicle charging infrastructure operator specialising in multi-occupancy residential buildings. This acquisition of a majority stake will enable Amperus to accelerate its nationwide expansion and pursue its service innovation strategy. It provides a practical response to the growing demand for charging points in multi-occupancy residential buildings, a key component of the energy transition.

As the electrification of the vehicle fleet accelerates, access to home charging remains a major challenge, particularly in multi-occupancy residential buildings, which remain significantly underserved. Founded in 2021, Amperus addresses this need through an integrated offering covering the design, installation, monitoring and maintenance of charging infrastructure in residential car parks. Its shared, scalable solution is tailored to the needs of co-owned residential properties and social housing providers.

With the support of Meanings Capital Partners, Amperus intends to strengthen its presence among property managers, residential co-owners and social housing providers throughout France. The company aims to become a leading player in the sector by combining the deployment of sustainable infrastructure with the development of innovative services, making home charging simpler, more affordable and more environmentally friendly.

The transaction is aligned with Meanings Infrastructure Fund’s strategy, which focuses on infrastructure supporting the energy transition, decarbonisation and digitalisation. It supports the growth of a business poised to contribute to the electrification of transport.

The team advising Meanings Capital Partners was led by partners Jeremy Scemama and Aymeric Robine and included associates Pierre Blanchard, Lou Thauvin (Private Equity M&A). The team also included partner Gwenaël Kropfinger (Partner – Tax) and Corentin Traxel (Tax).
