Insurance: Disputes: Policy Holder – Chambers USA 2011

June 2011

National

Insurance: Disputes: Policy Holder

Band 3

The Firm: An impressive presence in the key New York, Chicago and California markets enables this firm to appear in the national rankings. The practice tends to represent major financial institutions in complex and significant life insurance disputes. A strong appellate focus is also an important part of the practice, as well as a developing construction practice, which has represented the Philadelphia Eagles in E&O matters arising from the construction of Lincoln Financial Field stadium.

Sources Say: "The depth of experience and the uniformly high level of intelligence and specialized knowledge really stands out."

Key Individuals: Nancy Cohen has recently dealt with a range of D&O, E&O, product liability and life insurance matters both from her California base and across the USA. Peers rate her highly as an impressive and aggressive litigator. Seth Schafler debuts in the rankings following universally high praise from the market for his New York-based practice. He represents policyholders in coverage negotiations and litigation across the country.

National | Regional | Leading Lawyers