District of Columbia

Labor & Employment

Band 4

The Firm: The DC wing of this giant of the labor and employment world benefits from close links to the firm's New York office and its DC employee benefits and executive compensation group. The team is well equipped to handle most labor issues, and is particularly expert in dealing with regulatory issues and matters arising from the ADA. Clients include the US Chamber of Commerce, Amgen and Ford.

Key Individuals: Lawrence Lorber is head of the DC labor and employment practice group, and has frequently testified before Congress in an advisory capacity. He offers counsel on equal opportunities and wage and hour matters, among other areas.
