Christine is a partner in the firm's Tax Department and a member of the Private Funds Group, advising clients on the tax aspects of private funds, including hedge funds, credit funds, private equity funds and joint ventures.

She represents private fund managers in the formation of private funds, ongoing operations and the tax consequences of purchasing and disposing of investments. She also represents investors regarding the tax consequences of investing in private funds. She advises fund managers and investors on a variety of fund structures, including closed-end, open-end, hybrid, and evergreen.

Her experience also includes structuring and negotiating seed and strategic investments and advising private fund managers with respect to the sale of investment management and general partner entities.

Prior to joining Proskauer, Christine served as special counsel at a prominent law firm focused on private capital, where she addressed a broad range of tax matters related to private funds.
