Gregory Morris is co-head of the firm's Life Sciences Litigation group. He has more than two decades of experience across the full spectrum of IP matters, including Hatch-Waxman disputes and inter partes review (IPR) proceedings. A seasoned trial lawyer and Ph.D. chemist, Gregory guides pharmaceutical, biotechnology and medical device companies in complex patent litigation and helps clients secure value by providing strategic IP counseling and due diligence advice.

Gregory's work includes protecting innovative prescription drugs and biologics across key therapeutic areas, defending high-value patents and challenging competitor claims. Throughout his career, he has secured landmark decisions that have shaped patent law in the life sciences industry.

Gregory is widely regarded as one of the nation's leading lawyers in his field. He has been consistently recognized as a "Life Sciences Star" by LMG Life Sciences, an "IP Star" by Managing IP and "Patent Star" by IAM Patent 1000, which ranks him among the world's leading patent professionals. Gregory has also been repeatedly ranked as an IP leader by Chambers USA, where clients praise him as an "outstanding attorney with first chair litigation capability, expert-level technical insight and an ability to marry technical expertise with a strategic view."

Matters
