Ilise Alba has extensive experience in estate and trust planning, administration and litigation, family business succession planning and wealth preservation strategies. Ilise has served as the primary associate counselor and contact for numerous individual and corporate clients, family office administrators and family wealth advisors. She frequently formulates and implements estate plans aimed at balancing personal needs, financial concerns and philanthropic goals for a wide variety of clients including sophisticated, high-net-worth individuals and multi-generational families, moderately wealthy professionals and indigent pro bono clients. Experience has taught Ilise that successful client representation requires not only the adroit application of legal principles, but also an appreciation of the myriad emotional and intra-family dynamics that render each client unique.
