Ryan Poladian is an associate in the Private Client Services department. He focuses on advising high-net-worth individuals and families on the design and implementation of sophisticated and tax-efficient estate planning, with an emphasis on the multigenerational transfer of wealth. He advises high-net-worth individuals and families on trust administration, probate, charitable planning, income tax issues, and all other aspects of estate planning. He also has experience counseling fiduciaries in estate and trust litigation matters.

Ryan earned his J.D. from Columbia Law School and his A.B from Princeton University. Prior to joining Proskauer, he worked as an estate planning attorney in the New York City office of a large international law firm.

He is admitted to practice law in California and New York
