His practice encompasses public and private capital markets deals, debt and equity financings, leveraged buyouts, private credit and general corporate counseling. He works across industries including technology, media and telecommunications, consumer retail, healthcare, real estate, and energy.

Jonathan regularly represents clients in connection with:

- Initial public offerings (IPOs), follow-on equity offerings, at-the-market programs, and SPAC-related transactions.
- High-yield and investment-grade debt offerings, bridge financings, structured and mezzanine financings, and debt exchange offers.
- Leveraged finance, syndicated credit facilities and private credit transactions
- Leveraged buyouts, recapitalizations, and private equity or strategic investments.
- General corporate governance, securities law compliance, and ongoing corporate-finance advisory matters.

Jonathan offers clients a blend of technical expertise and commercial sensibility.
