Peter Angelica is an associate in the Litigation Department. He represents clients in a range of matters in federal and state courts with a focus on antitrust disputes, environmental mass torts and white collar investigations.

Peter's practice also maintains a number of pro bono matters, including clemency petitions, asylum applications and assisting pro se litigants in federal court through the City Bar Justice Center. He received the firm's Golden Gavel award for his pro bono contributions.

Peter is a regular contributor to Law360 on antitrust matters.

Peter earned his Juris Doctor, magna cum laude, from Fordham University School of Law. During law school, he served as the Editor-in-Chief for the Fordham Urban Law Journal and received the Mary Daly Prize in Legal Ethics. Peter holds an A.B. from Princeton University and an M.A.R. in ethics from Yale Divinity School.
