Samantha Bader
Principal
Morgan Health

Sam Bader is a Principal at Morgan Health. Previously, Bader was at Northwell Holdings, the venture investing arm of Northwell Health, where she co-managed the health system's venture portfolio. She was involved in all facets of the investment process — including sourcing, due diligence, transaction structuring and strategic oversight via board participation.

Prior to joining Northwell Holdings, Bader was an investor at Davidson Kempner and Avenue Capital, two NYC-based hedge funds, where she invested in public equities and debt of healthcare and technology companies.

Bader started her career at Jefferies as an Analyst on the investment banking team. Bader holds a Bachelor of Science (BS) in Finance and Healthcare Management from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.
