Wendy Hattler Dessy
Director of Corporate Social Responsibility, Proskauer

Wendy Hattler Dessy is the Director of Corporate Social Responsibility for Proskauer. She oversees all aspects of employee engagement and social responsibility for the Firm. The Firm's key areas of social responsibility include education, veteran affairs, social justice, hunger and poverty. Some of the Firm's most impactful programming includes educational enrichment programs across the country with public and charter high schools serving high achieving students from low-income communities, workshops to empower low-income women to reenter the workforce, career guidance and mentoring for post 9/11 veterans, social justice workshops with John Jay College, The Los Angeles Metropolitan Debate League, and teens from The Chinese American Planning Council and the Fresh Air Fund and establishing soup kitchen partners across the country and in London with volunteerism and financial support.

Prior to joining Proskauer, Wendy served as Executive Director for the NYC Cool Roofs Initiative, a volunteer initiative of Mayor Bloomberg's PlaNYC to reduce energy consumption, cooling costs and carbon emissions by 20% by 2020 and Manager of Public-Private Partnerships for The Mayor's Office of Service and Volunteerism from 2010-2014. Wendy held various positions within the Bloomberg administration and campaigns from 2005-2014.
